

Welcome to Just Resources Ltd

Just Resources is a UK-based training consultancy specialising in diversity and management training programmes.

We believe the secret of our success is that we take the time to thoroughly understand the objectives of every individual client, and address the real needs of their people on the ground. As a result, we've never failed to deliver.

We were among the first to champion the relationship between diversity, equal opportunities and organisational success. For over 15 years we have advised major public, private and not-for-profit sector organisations on these issues.

We are now the first to offer diversity training courses that are accredited by City & Guilds at levels 3 and 4.

Our diversity training programmes and change management experience will help you to maximise on the benefits that a diverse workforce can bring, avoid potential pitfalls and comply with UK legislation.

Our management training programmes, and one-to-one coaching, help to deliver your organisation's objectives by meeting the genuine learning needs of your people with regard to leadership, management and team work.

Whatever your training needs, we offer you quality, insight, flexibility, reliability and value. We provide training for the real world. Training that delivers.
